

Passed me by

Music & lyrics Phil Walton © 2006

I can't believe
The time has gone so quickly
It's passed me by
The life I never had
It's telling me I'm wasting time
It's getting much too late
It's worrying
How easy come how easy go it's been
Too late you say
I should have known by now
I've used up all my luck
And now there's nothing left to show.

If only I could find a new beginning
Then I could see the possibility
Of finding hope within the mire
It's tearing me apart
I have this chance
To grasp the meaning of this tawdry life
If only they
Would give me extra time
Then I could seek anew
The one that I had lost before.

There once was a time
When I could have
Anything I'd want
Anything at all
But lack of respect
For things that came easily to me
And this I'll guarantee
Will not set me free

I'm telling you
A life is not worth living
If you don't have
The right philosophy
So take a good look at your life
It's really very clear
Stop worrying
There's nothing you can do about your past
So take this chance
You owe it to yourself
There's no-one here but you
Until you set your spirit free
