

Reason to live

Music & lyrics Phil Walton © 2006

You came along
Like an angel of God
You must have heard me crying
And when I see
How much love is in your eyes
I feel ashamed of my life.

There's so much time
I have wasted on me
Searching for friends and lovers
But when you came
You released me from my pain
Because your love shines so bright

O how you lift me
O how you thrill me
You bring me a reason to live.

Together now
We have so much to share
A bond that will never
Be broken
Even if fate
Were to tear me away
We'll be together always.

O how you lift me
O how you thrill me
You bring me a reason to live.
